Organize:

The First National Doctoriales of Mathematics

Technical Information

OBJECTIVE

The objective of these national meetings of PhD students (Doctoriales) of Mathematics is to offer doctoral students in mathematics the opportunity to meet internationally recognized mathematicians and discuss their research with Algerian and foreign experts. This should be used for the training of young researchers in mathematics at the international level and for the promotion of their research in current fields.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION

The first edition is organized at the Ecole Normale Supérieure Assia Djebar. The next editions of the Doctoriales could be organized at similar institution that can offer such possibility. The first edition is scheduled from 28 to 31 October 2017.

THEMATICS

For each edition of the Doctoriales, the organizers will try to cover all areas of Mathematics.

ORGANIZATION OF THE DOCTORIALES

The Doctoriales will be organized into 3 or 4 plenary conferences each day in the morning and 4 thematic workshops in the afternoon. Each afternoon thematic workshop is moderated by two coordinators, of which at least one is a plenary speaker. Participants will be asked to present their research in progress through the poster and a short oral presentation, followed by an in-depth discussion.

PARTICIPANTS

- 1 - Plenary Speakers
- 2 - Experts who coordinate the afternoon workshops
- 3 - Doctoral students in mathematics who are not older than 30 years.

Plenary lecturers and experts who coordinate the afternoon workshops will be selected by the organizers. The young participants (category 3) will have to apply for participation accompanied by a sufficiently consistent description of their research, which will be examined by the committee of experts appointed by the organizers.
